Review of Operations:

The Company achieved a turnover of Rs.683.85 crores for the year ended 31st March, 2009 as against Rs. 610.33 crores in the previous year. The Company earned a Gross Profit of Rs.35.99 crores before interest and depreciation as against Rs. 40.30 crores in the previous year. After deducting interest of Rs. 25.25 crores, providing a sum of Rs. 2.83 crores towards depreciation, tax provision of Rs. 1.84 crores and after adjusting a sum of Rs. 1.32 crores towards deferred tax, the operations resulted in a Net Profit of Rs. 4.79 crores as against Rs. 15.23 crores for the previous year. The reasons for decrease in the net profit are mainly attributable to sharp fall in steel and steel scrap prices in the international as well as the domestic markets, global economic crisis, sharp devaluation of rupee and pressure on the margins.

The Company allotted 42,30,000 share warrants to M/s Umashiv Garments Private Limited (Promoter Group Company) on 12th February, 2008 at a price of Rs. 126/- which are convertible into equivalent number of equity shares within a period of 18 months from the date of allotment. M/s Umashiv Garments Private Limited exercised the option, on 31st March, 2008, to covert 10,00,000 share warrants into equity shares. During the year under review, M/s Umashiv Garments Private Limited has surrendered the right to exercise the option to convert 32,30,000 share warrants into equity shares of the Company. Accordingly the Company forfeited an amount of Rs. 4,06,98,000 received from M/s Umashiv Garments Private Limited.

As informed in the last annual report, keeping in view of the proposed setting up of a modern 2,25,000 TPA Rolling Mill, the Board of Directors of the Company in their meeting held on 31st July, 2008 approved the proposal to sell/dispose off the old Rolling Mill situated at Survey No 594/1, 1B, Reddypalem, Pernamitta Village, Ongole Rural Mandal, Prakasham (Dt), Andhra Pradesh which has a capacity of only 20,000 TPA and the members of the Company approved the same by passing a special resolution under Section 293 (1) (a) of the Companies Act, 1956 through Postal Ballot on 9th January 2009 to M/s Ananda Profiles Private Limited, Visakhapatnam for a consideration of Rs. 2.30 crores.

During the second half of the year under review, due to sharp fall in prices as well as demand and due to high input costs, the production at Steel Melting Division at Kothapeta was carried out at extremely low levels. Consequently the Company has sold the unutilised power produced from the 8 MW Power Plant.

The Company took on lease 2,25,000 TPA Sponge Iron unit of GSAL (India) Limited w.e.f 1st October, 2008. The unit is situated at Maliveedu, L.Kota Mandal, Vizianagaram District. The ongoing expansion plans of the Company i.e. setting up of 2,25,000 TPA Rolling Mill and 2,40,000 SMS plant in the premises of GASL (India) Limited are in progress. The Company acquired sufficient land on lease from GSAL (India) Limited and also tied up with the Banks in 2009-10 for the financial assistance for the said expansion plans.

The Company, on 27th March, 2009 has also allotted 34,89,090 share warrants of the Company at a price of Rs. 29/- (Rupees Twenty Nine) per share warrant on preferential basis to M/s Umashiv Garments Private Limited (Promoter Group Company) pursuant to the members' approval obtained in the Extra-ordinary General Meeting held on 12th March, 2009.

The said share warrants are convertible into equivalent number of equity shares and the share warrants will entitle M/s Umashiv Garments Private Limited without further payment to apply for and be allotted 34,89,090 equity shares of Rs.10/- each of the Company at a price of Rs. 29/- (including a premium of Rs.19/-) within a period of 18 months from the date of allotment (i.e latest by 26th September, 2010). MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS*Industry Structure and Developments:

World crude steel production reached 1,329.7 million metric tons for the year of 2008. This is a decrease of 1.2% compared to 2007. 2008 is the second consecutive year that world steel production has been over 1,300 million tons.

China remained the world's largest Crude Steel producer in 2008 also (500.5 million tons) followed by Japan (118.7 million tons) and USA (91.4 million tons). India occupied the 5th position (55.2 million tons). (Source: International Iron and Steel Institute (IISI))

Steel production declined in nearly all the major steel producing countries and regions including the EU, North America, South America and the CIS in 2008. However, Asia, in particular China and the Middle East showed positive growth in 2008. Worldwide steel production has shown an acceleration of negative growth from September 2008 to year end.

China became the first country ever to produce more than 500 mmt in one year. China's crude steel production in 2008 reached 500.5 mmt, an increase of 2.3% on 2007. Production volume in China has more than doubled within five years, from 222 mmt in 2003. China's share of world steel production continued to grow in 2008 producing 38% of world total crude steel. China remained as the net exporter in 2008 also.

Other BRIC (Brazil, Russia, India and China) countries showed mixed trends as India recording 3.95% growth, Brazil's growth was flat and 5.4% decrease incase of Russia. The BRIC share of world production has been growing rapidly since 2000. It has grown from 31% of total in 2001 to 49.5% in 2008.

India produced 55.2 million tons of crude steel in 2008, a growth of 5.4% over previous year's production of 53.1 million tons. The apparent domestic consumption of finished mild steel during the year was 52.6 million tons as compared to 50.8 million tons during the previous year.

The global economic conditions deteriorated sharply during the year 2008 with European and American economies experiencing their sharpest declines. The global financial environment entered a crisis phase in mid-September 2008, following the growing distress among large international financial institutions. The adverse effects of these unprecedented global developments became evident in the economic performance of the Indian economy, particularly in the second half of 2008-09. The Indian economy, which was on a robust growth path up to 2007-08, averaging at 8.9 per cent during the period 2003-04 to 2007-08, witnessed moderate fall in the first half of 2008-09 but sharper in the second half.

The global steel industry has not escaped the current economic downturn and has rapidly responded with production cuts but the industry is in a much better position to manage these events than ever before. The industry has become more efficient and is better prepared to deal with market turbulences thanks to the global restructuring and consolidation that took place over the last 15 years.

The long term prospect for the global steel market remains strong. The speed of growth might have slowed down but the industry will continue to grow in different ways. Consolidation in China will accelerate reinforcing its position in the global market. Capacity expansion will continue in emerging markets with a steady growth in steel demand in all sectors. As the market fundamentals return, market prices will re-establish a clear link between steel prices and costs. 2009 certainly brings interesting times but at worst only a temporary lull in a strong dynamic future for the next decades for the steel industry.

In India, the production of crude steel in 2008-09 was 55.2 million metric tons as against 53.1 million metric tons in 2007-08. This is indeed an achievement in light of overall contraction in steel output at global level. This has been made possible due to a very robust growth during April–September, 2008. Demand of steel products slumped in line with global trend leading to production cut during the second half of 2008-09 by almost all main producers. Steel prices have come down by more than 40%. Demand is slackening due to slump in the construction industry, automobile, and many other sectors which consume steel. The pressure on prices/margins is likely to escalate in view of slackening demand and the hike in cost of raw materials.

The first half of fiscal 2008-09 witnessed an unprecedented demand spurt on account of expanding oil and gas sector, large infrastructure spend and higher disposable incomes triggering demand in housing/ Consumer durables/Auto sectors. Finished steel consumption growth slackened significantly in the third quarter of 2008-09 due to the domino effect of the global financial crisis on the Indian financial markets. Although the steel demand fell during the third quarter of fiscal 08-09 mainly due to tight liquidity conditions following the various monetary and fiscal initiatives announced by Reserve Bank of India and the Central government the demand started picking up during fourth quarter of fiscal 2008-09.

The following are the main reasons for such smart recovery

- Timely announcement of monetary and fiscal stimulus measures with a focus on infrastructure and consumer spending.
- High density of semi-urban and rural demography, that was relatively unaffected by global turmoil, coupled with rising affordability due to the falling inflation.
- Inventory levels nearly bottomed out at the producer, user and dealer level – creating fresh demand.
- Opportunity to substitute imports with domestic supplies.

With a series of mega projects – either being implemented or at the proposal stage, which once operational will re-write the structure of steel industry and its dynamics, the future of Indian Steel industry is definitely optimistic. This, in fact, is reflected in the projections for the 11th Plan Period, which indicate that for finished non-alloy steel, domestic steel demand would reach 70 million tons and steel supply would touch 77 million tons by the end of the terminal year of 11th Plan, i.e. 2011-12. These would represent 40% and 66% growth rates respectively as compared to 2007-08, the first year of the 11th Plan period.

A Steel Price Monitoring Committee has been constituted by the Ministry of Steel. The Committee will monitor price movements of various categories of steel product, discuss and analyze the variations, formulate strategy regarding future price based on an adaptive model and recommend strategies vis-à-vis steel production, consumption and trading.

Opportunities & Threats:

Steel consumption in India is growing at a rate of more than 10%, a trend that is likely to persist as the nation enters into a steel intensive phase of development. The 11th Five Year Plan has given a major thrust on the infrastructure sector with the total spending planned at around US $ 500 billion by 2012. Mega projects in the power, energy, ports, railways and surface transportation sectors, plans for rural infrastructure like Bharat Nirman, allocation for which was raised to Rs. 31,280 crore and building over 2 lakh kilometers of National Highways by 2010, present an unprecedented opportunity for the steel industry which is expanding and modernizing day by day to cater to the emerging demand. India is emerging as a major hub, both for the automobile and for the auto components sector. The water supply and oil & gas sectors are the other segments where there is a large growth potential.

The recessionary business environment while imposing a great challenge has also led to new pockets of opportunity. All the companies that are in the midst of expansion plan can take up capital projects at much more competitive rates than feasible earlier. With a number of companies deferring their projects in the wake of uncertain demand, the competition in the equipment supplying industry has intensified, leading to reduction in project cost. Lowering of commodity and metals prices is also going to bring down the cost of capital projects.

Government's emphasis on infrastructure spending in order to stimulate economic growth would keep demand healthy. Further, real estate activity is also expected to pick up in the second half of 2009-10 due to low interest rates and fall in property prices. This will create new demand for steel products.

India's per capita steel consumption continued to be low at 46 kg compared to global average of 198 kg in 2008. The National Steel Policy aspires to double the rural per capita steel consumption to 4 kg per person in the next few years. This will present an attractive opportunity for the industry to expand the existing capacities and create further green field capacities, considering that around 70% of the Indian population is rural.

With significant excess capacity in the global steel industry during 2009 there is a threat of dumping cheap steel to India which is likely to be the only major steel consuming nation with a positive growth. Clearance and renewal of mining lease, which involve multiple agencies at the State and Central levels, are an area of concern. Delay in opening new mines, and /or expanding existing mines may constrain raw materials availability, thereby impacting growth in saleable steel production, and overall economics of operation. Law and order situation in mining areas in some of the states is also a cause of concern for smooth operations in remote areas.

The threats for your Company would come from adverse fluctuations in input and capital costs, foreign exchange variations and taxes and duties. The buoyancy in the Iron & Steel Sector has attracted many players, resulting in reduced availability of skilled manpower and contractor workforce.

Risks and Concerns:

The year 2008-09 has witnessed historical high prices for inputs for steel making. Prices of iron ore and coking coal have been purchased at levels unimaginable only some time back. High cost of industrial raw materials will increase the marginal cost of production of steel and, therefore, the price of the metal in the market. At these prices steel may come under threat of substitution as end users look for cheaper options. Inordinate delay in clearance of mines by the Government may lead to shortage of input materials for steel making and thereby impact the growth of the sector.

The availability of quality Scarp, raw materials linkage, volatility in prices of key inputs and in the steel prices in the international market will be the major concerns, as these would impact the domestic steel prices.

The availability of TMT Bars, Wire Rods and other steel products in which the Company deals has increased as numerous small players have entered the sector. This could affect the realisation from these products. Delay in implementation of proposed expansion plans could lead to opportunity loss in revenue generation and rise in costs.

General economic slowdown is anticipated to be long drawn with earliest recovery anticipated around October, 2009. The recovery in steel sector may also take a longer time. Excess capacity during this period will put pressure on the margins in the steel business. The process of clearance of mining leases, in the country needs to be streamlined. As development of mines takes place over a number of years, delayed clearances may impact the overall economics of operations for the company.

Steel making is a raw materials intensive process. Each tonne of finished steel involves transportation of 4 tonnes of materials. Infrastructure cost in India is higher than international benchmarks. To have internationally competitive steel industry it is essential that infrastructure cost comes down in future. In the current scenario, slowdown in demand from Automotive and construction sector is posing a big concern for the Indian steel industry. Steel capacity developments in India and China, production dynamics in China and the possible slowdown in China's steel consumption leading to a surge of steel into the country are other concerns. Proposals of various countries specially China with respect to steel export tariffs and safeguard measures initiated in key importing countries might have serious implications for the Indian steel producers.

Outlook:

The steel industry continues to be under demand and margin pressure through out the world. Indian economy was largely affected by slump in demand in United States of America and Europe. Early indications show that world economy is moving towards recovery. Government of India and Reserve Bank of India have given some fiscal and financial stimulus packages for improving demand and fund availability of banks but its effects will take some time to percolate down and create ripple effect.

However, during April and May, 2009, the world economy and particularly the economy in India have shown signs of recovery and it is hoped that with the stabilization of financial sector in United States and Europe, the recovery will accelerate. India is the only major economy expected to show positive growth in steel use in 2009. Indian consumption is forecast to grow about 2%. The first signs of recovery in the steel industry were evident in the production and sales trend during Jan-March'09. Encouraged by the buoyant demand from the infrastructure sector and slight revival in the auto industry, the steel sector raised production in January '09 by 1.6% as compared to declines recorded in the previous two months. The improved demand scenario is expected to continue in 2009-10. Production of finished steel for April-June 2009 was 3.06 million tonnes a growth of 4% over same period last year, while consumption of steel recorded a growth of 5.2 % over April-June 2008. All the sectors of economy including steel sector in India are expected to come out of recessionary trends during the current financial year.

Despite the concerns, the outlook of the Indian Steel Industry continues to be bright and challenging. Your Company proposes to continue its efforts to increase revenues, margins and manufacturing base in the current year. The ongoing Expansion plans of setting up of Rolling Mill and SMS plant will be completed in a phased manner by 2009-10 by which time the world economy is expected to be back on rails and the then demand of steel will fully consume the increased production.
