STEEL EXCHANGE INDIA LTD

A Legacy of Trust. A Culture of Performance.

In every industry, legacy is made through consistency, clarity of purpose, and the ability to deliver when it matters most. Performance is not just about metrics, but about the mind set that drives excellence day after day. Together, trust and performance form the foundation on which long standing reputations are built and sustained.

In the world of construction, trust is the first material used. Long before foundations are poured or steel is welded, there is a decision made in confidence. Trust is the unseen groundwork, laid even before the first beam is raised and it stems from belief in a name that consistently delivers. Steel Exchange India Ltd has earned that confidence, by being consistent in every product we deliver, and by standing for something greater than steel.

Our legacy of trust captures the essence of who we are and what we have built over time. It reflects the emotional equity we have nurtured among dealers, engineers, builders, and homeowners the confidence that Steel Exchange India Ltd stands for reliability, quality, and consistency. It also recognizes the discipline, precision, and perseverance that have helped us follow through on our commitments, especially in times of uncertainty.

This legacy is underpinned by a 'culture of performance'. In FY 2025-26, despite pricing pressures and a cautious construction cycle, Steel Exchange India Ltd remained resilient. We delivered growth across both manufacturing and Marketing even as market conditions remained fluid. Our dealer network grew stronger as we continued to invest in our brand and our people. These results reflect more than operational strength; they demonstrate our ability to sustain momentum through consistency of purpose.

We also focused on performance in action. From timely deliveries and product availability to sustainable practices and community-led green drives, every touch point of our business became an opportunity to reinforce our reliability.

Steel Exchange India Ltd strives to seamlessly connect trust with performance. Our business model is built to be lean, scalable, and responsive. Our relationships are built to last. Our products are built to endure. And our name is built on the belief that when someone chooses Steel Exchange India Ltd, they are choosing peace of mind.

Because in the hands of a builder, steel must do more than hold weight.

It must hold trust.

And in the heart of a brand, performance must do more than meet targets.

It must live up to its legacy.

That is Simhadri TMT. Always dependable. Always delivering.

Advancing Purpose. Scaling Legacy.

Steel Exchange India Ltd ('Steel Exchange, 'We,' 'The Company') has built a solid reputation over three decades as a reliable provider of high-quality steel products across South India. Message from the Chairman

Strengthening Trust. Enhancing Performance.

As the most recognized branded steel company in India, Steel Exchange stands at the intersection of growing demand and growing expectations.

Dear Shareholders,

As we assess the global landscape, the outlook for the steel industry remains cautiously optimistic. While the global demand growth upto 2030 is expected to remain modest, India has become the 2nd largest producer of steel in 2025-26. Steel production in India is expected to grow further with the strong push by the Government for large scale infrastructure projects such as Bharatmala and Gati Shakti initiatives.

However, we face challenges such as geopolitical tensions and supply chain disruptions. The transition to green steel production is not merely a trend; it is becoming a necessity. As regulations tighten and stakeholders demand more environmentally friendly practices, companies that prioritize sustainability will emerge as leaders in the market.

During the year 2025-26, the total Revenue of the company stood at Rs. 1066.42 Crores as against the Rs. 1163.38 Crores in FY 25. Operating EBITDA and Net Profit Rs 140.35 Cr and Rs. 26.99 Crores from Rs 143.18 Cr and Rs 25.93 Cr respectively in the Previous Year.

After putting the additional capacities in to commercial operation in March 2025 the EBITDA margin has improved in FY 26 with production of 8- and 10-MM size products in our plant. Your company has taken up installation of new Re-Heating furnace plant to execute the contract awarded by RINL for conversion of 1.20 lakhs MTPA of Blooms. This facility is likely to commence its operation in Q2 of FY 27.

With operationalisation of Re-Heating Furnace, your company can utilize the Rolling mill at higher capacity and generate additional income.

Members may recall the management's Commitment to increase production levels and improve margins as well as to identify and realign the assets of the company to increase the value of the company for all stake holders.

With the continuous efforts of the management, the cost of the debt has been brought down from 18.75% to 13.18% in FY 26 with refinance from group of lenders led by Kotak and your company is putting its best efforts to reduce the finance cost further by exploring all options in this regard i.e seeking upgradation of Credit Rating, raising loans from banking sector at further lower ROI to refinance the existing loans.

Further the management Continues its efforts to generate additional cash flows from sale/ lease of surplus and idle land parcels and other assets, so that the company can increase revenue and reduce the debt.

In its steps to strengthen the Balance sheet of the company, the management could raise new equity through issue of Equity Warrants under preferential offer to specific investors including IMR Group, a global player in trading and mining operations. The company successfully placed 36,14,60,300 Equity warrants at Rs 9.45/ each (including premium of Rs 8.45/) for a value of 341.57 Cr in April 2026 by receiving Rs 85.40 Crores towards application money. The company prepaid Rs 75 cr of term debt and NCD Holders out of these warrant proceeds. The Warrant holders have a right to exercise for conversion of these warrants in to Equity shares by paying balance 75% money within 18 months from the dt of allotment.

With the state government's focus on improving the infrastructure in the state, the company expects stable and steady increase in demand for steel. All these factors augur well for the company in the coming years. The management is committed to continue its efforts in minimizing the costs and improving the intrinsic value of the company for the benefit of all stakeholders.

In the context of Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) concerns and climate change, we are working to reduce our energy footprint by adopting energy-efficient technologies. Additionally, we are integrating renewable energy sources into our operations to contribute to a greener, more sustainable future.

We continue to adopt best practices to maintain healthy employee relations, promote growth and development, and foster work satisfaction. Our aim is to build strong, collaborative relationships based on trust and mutual respect, ensuring a respectful workplace for all.

Your company remains optimistic about the external economic environment and expects robust and consistent steel demand in the coming years. The steps we are taking are expected to result in sustainable revenues and margins.

I take this opportunity to thank all our shareholders, lenders, suppliers, customers, colleagues, employees, and well-wishers. I ask for your continued support and cooperation to further strengthen our company.

Thank you,

Steel Exchange India Limited (SEIL) MDA FY 2026

Overview

The objective of this report is to convey the Management's perspective on the external environment and steel industry, as well as strategy, operating and financial performance, material developments in human resources and industrial relations, risks and opportunities and internal control systems and their adequacy in the Company during Financial Year 2025-26. This should be read in conjunction with the Company's financial statements, the schedules and notes thereto and other information included elsewhere in the Annual Report and Annual Accounts 2025-26. The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ('Ind AS') complying with the requirements of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended and regulations issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India ('SEBI') from time to time.

Global Economy and Economic Outlook: 2026

Global Economy

The global economy recorded an estimated growth of 3.4% in 2025 despite a volatile economic and geopolitical landscape. The year witnessed substantial increases in U.S. tariffs, elevated uncertainty surrounding trade policies, the announcement of several trade agreements whose full effects are yet to materialize, and continued momentum in artificial intelligence-related investments. Global economic performance was shaped by changing trade relationships and the growing importance of technology-led growth, particularly across North America and Asia.

Geopolitical tensions remained elevated throughout the year, with conflicts in the Middle East contributing to increased uncertainty in energy markets and international trade routes. These developments led to fluctuations in commodity prices and disruptions in global supply chains. The resulting challenges are expected to persist and continue influencing economic conditions during FY2026-27.

Economic Outlook

Global economic growth is expected to moderate to 3.1% in 2026 before improving slightly to 3.2% in 2027. Growth in advanced economies is projected at 1.8% in 2026, while emerging market and developing economies are forecast to expand by 3.9%.

Global headline inflation is anticipated to rise to 4.4% in 2026 before easing to 3.7% in 2027. This interruption in the disinflation trend is primarily attributed to higher energy and food prices. These projections assume a relatively early resolution of disruptions arising from the Middle East conflict. However, inflationary pressures remain vulnerable to fluctuations in energy markets. Sustained increases in oil and gas prices could raise production costs, complicate monetary policy decisions, and increase cost volatility across industrial sectors.

In the United States, economic growth is projected at 2.3% in 2026, supported by fiscal stimulus measures under the 'Big Beautiful Bill' and continued investment in AI-related capital expenditure. Nevertheless, public debt levels, estimated at approximately 125% of GDP, continue to pose a significant risk. Elevated debt burdens may limit future fiscal flexibility, place upward pressure on long-term interest rates, and reduce investment appetite in capital-intensive industries.

The Euro Area is expected to grow by 1.2% in 2026, supported by fiscal expansion in Germany, although structural challenges such as ageing populations are likely to remain a constraint. The United Kingdom is forecast to achieve growth of 1.1% in 2026, aided by lower interest rates and a gradually easing labour market.

China's economy is projected to expand by 4.4% in 2026, supported by domestic stimulus initiatives and a trade truce with the United States. While this development has helped stabilize broader bilateral relations, many countries continue to pursue sector-specific protective measures to safeguard domestic industries from excess global production capacity.

Global trade volumes are forecast to grow by 2.8% in 2026 and 3.8% in 2027, reflecting the ongoing realignment of trade networks and gradual improvement in international economic activity.

Indian Economy: 2025-26 Outlook

India continued to be among the world's fastest-growing major economies, registering a growth rate of 7.5% in FY2025-26. Economic activity remained supported by strong domestic demand, government-led infrastructure investments, and resilience across key sectors of the economy.

Looking ahead, India's real GDP is expected to grow by 6.7% in FY2026-27. Headline consumer price inflation is projected to increase to the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) medium-term target of 4.0%, compared with the exceptionally low level of 2.2% recorded in FY2025-26. Despite the anticipated rise in inflation, monetary policy is expected to remain broadly accommodative, with the repo rate likely to stabilize at around 5.0%.

The evolving interest rate and inflation environment suggests that while borrowing costs may remain supportive of economic growth, maintaining favourable real interest rates will be important to sustain consumption and investment, particularly in interest-sensitive sectors such as automobiles and housing.

Government capital expenditure continues to remain robust at more than 5% of GDP, with a strong emphasis on infrastructure development and defence spending. Ongoing investments under major national infrastructure programmes, including projects aligned with the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP 2.0), are expected to support demand across core industries and contribute positively to economic growth.

However, external risks remain a concern. Prolonged disruptions in critical global trade routes, including the Strait of Hormuz, could result in higher fuel prices and increased energy costs. Given India's dependence on energy imports, such developments may widen the current account deficit, exert pressure on fiscal balances, contribute to inflationary pressures, and potentially reduce consumer demand if these disruptions persist over an extended period.

Global Steel Industry and Developments

Steel consumption remained under pressure across several advanced economies during the year, largely due to continued weakness in residential construction activity in China, Europe, Japan and parts of North America. Demand from the automotive sector also remained mixed as manufacturers and consumers faced higher costs and cautious spending patterns. Nevertheless, sustained government-led infrastructure investments in many regions helped provide support to steel consumption and partially compensated for weakness in traditional end-use sectors.

Regional performance continued to vary significantly. While China's steel demand is expected to remain on a declining trajectory in the near term, the pace of contraction is likely to moderate. In contrast, developing economies outside China are projected to record healthy growth, supported by investments in infrastructure, industrial expansion and urban development. India is expected to remain a major contributor to global steel demand growth, while emerging markets across ASEAN, the Middle East and North Africa (MENA), and Africa continue to demonstrate improving consumption trends.

At the same time, persistent global overcapacity and elevated steel exports from China have intensified competition in international markets. This has led several countries to introduce or strengthen trade protection measures aimed at safeguarding domestic steel industries. Although medium-term demand prospects indicate gradual stabilization, the global steel sector continues to face challenges arising from excess capacity, trade-related uncertainties and uneven economic recovery across regions.

Demand Outlook

Global crude steel production stood at approximately 1.8 billion tonnes in 2025, representing a year-on-year decline of 2.0%. Growth in India's steel sector helped offset production declines in several other Asian and European markets. China, the world's largest steel producer, reported crude steel output of 961 million tonnes (MT), reflecting a decline of 4.4% compared with the previous year. In contrast, India's crude steel production increased by 10.4% to 165 MT, while production in the European Union declined by 2.6% to 126 MT.

Weak domestic demand in China continued to drive higher export volumes, with finished steel exports reaching a record 119 MT in 2025, an increase of 7.5% over the previous year. This surge in exports contributed to growing trade protection measures across multiple regions seeking to protect local steel producers from import pressures.

According to the World Steel Association, global steel demand was estimated at around 1,749 MT in 2025, reflecting the combined impact of structural challenges and supportive demand fundamentals. Demand is expected to recover modestly by 1.3% in 2026, reaching approximately 1,773 MT, supported by improving financing conditions, continued public infrastructure investments and a gradual recovery in business confidence.

Regional trends are expected to remain diverse. In China, steel demand is projected to decline further in 2026, although at a slower rate than in recent years, as weakness in the property sector continues to weigh on consumption. Government support initiatives may help moderate the slowdown; however, challenges related to manufacturing activity and local government finances continue to present downside risks. The slowing pace of decline nevertheless suggests that Chinese steel demand could be nearing a cyclical trough.

By comparison, developing economies excluding China are expected to maintain strong growth momentum. Demand in these markets expanded by more than 3% during 2025 and is anticipated to strengthen further in 2026, driven by ongoing urbanisation, infrastructure development and manufacturing activity. India is expected to remain one of the fastest-growing steel markets globally, supported by broad-based growth across construction, infrastructure and industrial sectors. Other regions, including parts of ASEAN, MENA and Africa, are also expected to contribute meaningfully to global demand growth.

Steel demand across developed economies remained subdued in 2025, marking the fourth consecutive year of weak growth as elevated production costs and affordability concerns continued to affect industrial activity. However, conditions are expected to improve during 2026, supported by increased infrastructure and defence expenditure, moderating inflationary pressures and strengthening household purchasing power.

Overall, while the near-term outlook remains cautious, global steel demand is expected to gradually stabilize and improve, underpinned by structural demand growth in emerging economies and a gradual recovery in key developed markets. Nevertheless, geopolitical developments in the Middle East, including tensions involving the United States and Iran, continue to pose risks to global economic activity and the steel demand outlook.

Indian Steel Industry and Developments

India is expected to remain one of the fastest-growing steel markets globally, with steel consumption projected to increase by approximately 7–8% during FY2026-27. Apparent Steel Use (ASU) is estimated to reach around 176–178 million tonnes (MT), supported by sustained investments in infrastructure and growing demand from emerging sectors such as data centres, defence manufacturing, and renewable energy. Government-led capital expenditure continues to play a critical role in supporting steel-intensive industries and long-term economic development.

While domestic steel demand is expected to remain strong, production capacity additions are likely to exceed consumption growth, positioning India as an increasingly important participant in global steel trade and strengthening its potential as a net exporter over the medium term.

India's steel demand outlook continues to be supported by strong structural growth drivers. Sustained investments in infrastructure projects such as highways, railways, metro networks, ports, airports, and power facilities are expected to generate significant steel consumption, while rapid urbanisation and growing residential, commercial, and public infrastructure development will further support demand from the construction sector. Additionally, the continued expansion of domestic manufacturing, backed by government initiatives, rising industrial investments, and increasing consumer demand, is likely to drive steel usage across a wide range of downstream industries. Together, these factors are expected to underpin the long-term growth of India's steel market and strengthen its position as a key contributor to global steel demand.

Despite these positive domestic fundamentals, the industry faces a number of external challenges. Elevated steel exports from China and shifts in global trade patterns resulting from protectionist measures may continue to influence pricing dynamics and market competitiveness. In addition, the implementation of carbon-related trade regulations in major export markets, particularly Europe, along with growing customer preference for lower-emission steel products, may create new compliance and competitiveness requirements for Indian steel producers.

To strengthen its global position and sustain long-term growth, the Indian steel industry will need continued support through investments in infrastructure, reliable access to competitively priced energy and raw materials, and faster adoption of environmentally sustainable production technologies. Improving operational efficiency, increasing the share of value-added products, and accelerating innovation across the value chain will remain critical for enhancing competitiveness and capturing future growth opportunities in the global steel market.

Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) & Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)- Safety, Health, Sustainability

The steel industry is one of the most energy- and carbon-intensive sectors in the world economy, responsible for approximately 7–8% of global anthropogenic carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions. As nations collectively strive to achieve the goals of the Paris Agreement, the decarbonization of the steel industry has emerged as a critical challenge. This is particularly true for countries such as India, which is both the second-largest steel producer globally and a rapidly growing economy with ambitious infrastructure development plans.

The steel Industry's significance extends beyond its economic role, it is foundational to the development of transport, construction, infrastructure, and energy sectors. However, its heavy reliance on coal-based technologies particularly the Direct Reduced Iron (DRI) process, contributes to elevated carbon intensities compared to international benchmarks.

Steel Exchange India Limited (SEIL), an integrated steel plant is also significant contributor to regional industrial output. SEIL's operations associated with Direct Reduced Iron (DRI) production, a Steel Melting Shop (SMS), Rolling Mills, and a Captive Power Plant (CPP), enabling vertically integrated production from raw materials to finished steel products such as billets and Re-bars.

SEIL's Emission Intensity of 2.45 CO₂ per tonne of Billets/Rolled Products positions within the Global BF-BOF (average) of 2.2-2.5 (Source: World Steel Association). SEIL's performance remains consistent with its domestic peers and reflects the structural reliance in India's steel sector.

This result is consistent with performance of coal-based Direct Reduced Iron (DRI) combined with Electric Arc Furnace (EAF) operations, which dominate the Indian secondary steel sector.

SEIL identified several mitigation opportunities to reduce carbon intensity over short, medium, and long-term horizons:

- Short-term: Enhance Waste Heat Recovery efficiency, optimize CPP operations, and improve energy management systems.
- Medium-term: Increase scrap utilization in SMS, substitute imported coal with higher-grade fuel, and integrate renewable electricity sources.
- Long-term: Explore deployment of carbon capture, utilization and storage (CCUS), and adoption of hydrogen-based DRI to Produce Green Steel.

These measures will enable SEIL to align with India's decarbonization commitments and international best practices.

SEIL adopts continuous measures to reduce Direct & indirect emissions also, specifically upstream transport of raw materials and downstream distribution of finished products. This year SEIL Installed a New fully automated continuous rolling mill having 16 Passes and followed by Block Mill (4 passes) for manufacturing 8mm Re bars, which controlled the Downstream emissions (transportation of Billet to other facility) and also controlled Direct emissions of Re heating of Billets in that other facility.

Opportunities

The Indian steel industry continues to present significant long-term growth opportunities, driven by robust economic fundamentals, sustained infrastructure development, rapid urbanization, expanding manufacturing activity, and increasing investments across core sectors. The Government's continued emphasis on capital expenditure, infrastructure creation, housing, transportation, renewable energy, and industrial development under various policy initiatives is expected to support sustained demand for steel over the medium to long term.

Growing demand from sectors such as infrastructure, construction, engineering, automotive, railways, capital goods, oil and gas, and renewable energy is expected to create new avenues for growth. In addition, increasing emphasis on import substitution, localization of manufacturing, and capacity expansion across industries is expected to strengthen domestic steel consumption.

The Company remains well positioned to capitalize on these opportunities through its established manufacturing capabilities, diversified product portfolio, strong customer relationships, and continued focus on operational excellence, product quality, and customer satisfaction. The Company also continues to explore opportunities to expand its value-added product offerings, enhance operational efficiencies, and strengthen its market presence across key customer segments.

Risks and Concerns

The steel industry operates in a dynamic and competitive environment and is subject to various internal and external risks that may impact business performance. Key risks include volatility in raw material prices and availability, fluctuations in domestic and international steel prices, changes in demand-supply dynamics, inflationary pressures, rising energy and logistics costs, foreign exchange volatility, and evolving regulatory and environmental compliance requirements.

The industry is also exposed to risks arising from global economic uncertainties, geopolitical developments, changes in international trade policies, import and export regulations, and cyclical variations in end-user demand. Intensifying competition from domestic and global steel producers, together with increasing customer expectations relating to quality, delivery, and sustainability, continues to present operational and commercial challenges.

Further, the transition towards low-carbon manufacturing and evolving environmental, social, and governance (ESG) expectations require continuous investments in cleaner technologies, resource efficiency, and sustainable manufacturing practices.

Mitigation Strategies

The Company has established a robust enterprise risk management framework that facilitates the timely identification, assessment, monitoring, and mitigation of key strategic, operational, financial, and regulatory risks. Risk management is integrated into the Company's decision-making processes and is periodically reviewed by the Management and the Board to ensure effective oversight.

To mitigate raw material and supply chain risks, the Company follows a disciplined procurement strategy supported by supplier diversification, strategic sourcing initiatives, inventory optimization, and continuous vendor engagement. Operational risks are managed through preventive maintenance, process standardization, continuous improvement initiatives, technology adoption, and rigorous quality management systems.

The Company continues to focus on cost optimization through enhanced manufacturing efficiencies, improved yield management, energy conservation initiatives, digitalization, and prudent working capital management. Continuous investments in process improvements and operational excellence initiatives enable the Company to enhance productivity while maintaining high standards of product quality and customer service.

The Company also places significant emphasis on regulatory compliance, environmental stewardship, occupational health and safety, cybersecurity, and business continuity planning to strengthen organizational resilience and ensure sustainable business operations.

Strategic Response and Resilience

The Company's long-term strategy is centered on sustainable growth, operational excellence, customer-centricity, technological advancement, and prudent financial management. The Company remains committed to strengthening its competitive position through continuous improvement in manufacturing capabilities, optimization of product mix, expansion of value-added products, and enhancement of customer engagement.

Strategic investments in modernization, automation, digital technologies, energy efficiency, and environmentally responsible manufacturing practices continue to improve operational reliability, productivity, and cost competitiveness. Simultaneously, the Company remains focused on developing organizational capabilities, strengthening governance practices, and fostering a culture of innovation and continuous improvement.

The Company maintains a disciplined approach towards capital allocation, liquidity management, and financial risk management, thereby providing the flexibility required to respond effectively to changing market conditions. Its diversified customer base, established operational capabilities, experienced management team, and strong governance framework provide resilience against cyclical industry challenges and macroeconomic uncertainties.

While the business environment continues to remain dynamic, the Company believes that its strategic priorities, strong operational foundation, prudent risk management practices, and unwavering focus on sustainable value creation position it well to capitalize on emerging opportunities and deliver long-term value to its stakeholders.

These initiatives position SEIL to remain resilient and agile, even amidst uncertainty, while preparing the foundation for long-term, sustainable growth.

Please indicate material responsible business conduct and sustainability issues pertaining to environmental and social matters that present a risk or an opportunity to your business, rationale for identifying the same, approach to adapt or mitigate the risk along-with its financial implications, as per the following format

Sr. No.	Material Issue Identified (High priority material issues are listed below)	Indicate whether risk or opportunity	Rationale for identifying the risk/ opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Financial implications of the risk or opportunity (Indicate positive or negative implications)
1	Greenhouse Gas Emissions & Climate Change Management	Risk & Opportunity	A significant part of SEIL production is through the blast furnace route, which is an emission intensive process and contributes towards global warming.	SEIL is trying to set up targets to treat the emissions in a much responsible manner and transition to low carbon steelmaking is critical for the long-term success of the Company. SEIL also aims to maximize the amount of scrap charged into its existing blast furnace-based steelmaking operations	Both Negative & Positive based on treatment
2	Energy Management	Opportunity	Production of steel is a highly energy intensive process and consumes a large quantity of energy from multiple sources: coal, natural Gas, electricity and other fossil fuel.	We are striving to reducing our energy footprint by embracing energy-efficient technologies. Moreover, we are proactively trying to integrate renewable energy sources into our energy mix and contribute to a greener and more sustainable world.	Positive
3	Water Consumption and Effluent Discharge	Risk	SEIL utilises a large quantity of water in its processes and draws this water from multiple sources.	Minimizing withdrawal of fresh water from rivers by maximising the recycling of treated waste effluents within the plant by setting up effluent treatment plants.	Negative
4	Circular Economy	Opportunity	Steel as a material lends itself to circularity and is recyclable as ferrous scrap to produce new steel. Steel produced through recycling has a significantly lower carbon footprint, as opposed to producing primary steel by reducing iron ore.	SEIL aims to maximize the amount of scrap charged into its existing blast furnace-based steelmaking operations	Positive
5	Employee & Workforce Engagement, Wellbeing	Opportunity	SEIL believes that Employee Well-being and Development creates a healthy company culture, better employee satisfaction and higher employee engagement and therefore, helps attract and retain talent. The Company's ability to attract and retain talent provides the Company with a competent and experienced workforce and reduces recruitment costs for the Company. A high quality and motivated workforce is critical for company sustainability.	We adopt best practices to ensure healthy employee relations, employee growth and development as well as work satisfaction. We have strived to build caring and collaborative relationships based on trust and mutual respect, paving the way for a respectful workplace for all.	Positive
6	Occupational Health & Safety	Risk	Ensuring the safety of its employees, contract workers and communities is critical for continued regulatory and social license to operate, especially considering process related hazard in steelwork. In case safety related processes or performance of the Company is deemed inadequate, or in case of a significant safety incident, prohibition order from the government may also lead to partial closure of the plant.	We endeavour to achieve the objective of safety and health responsibilities through a robust safety management system framework and a sound safety governance structure.	Negative

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.

We also

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of M/s. Steel Exchange India limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2026 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial control system over financial reporting of the Company.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

SEIL Infra Logistics Limited ("the Company") was incorporated on June 29, 2025, as a wholly owned subsidiary of Steel Exchange India Limited.

As at the reporting date, the Company has not commenced business operations and no subscription towards share capital has been received. Accordingly, consolidated financial statements were not prepared for the year.

The financial statements of the Company for the year ended March 31, 2026, were approved by the Board of Directors and authorised for issue on May 25, 2026.

1. Significant accounting policies

1.1 Basis of preparation and Presentation

(a) Basis of measurement

The Financial Statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention on accrual basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

As the operating cycle has been assumed to have duration of 12 months. Accordingly, all assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's operating cycle and other criteria set out in Ind AS-1 'Presentation of Financial Statements' and Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

(b) Functional and presentation currency

The Standalone Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupees and all values are rounded off to the nearest lakhs except otherwise stated.

(c) Use of estimates and judgment

The preparation of standalone financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on a periodic basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

1.2 Summary of significant accounting policies

1.2.1 Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date under current market conditions.

1.2.2 Investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures

Investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are carried at cost/deemed cost applied on transition to Ind AS, less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Where an indication of impairment exists, the carrying amount of investment is assessed and an impairment provision is recognised, if required immediately to its recoverable amount. On disposal of such investments, difference between the net disposal proceeds and carrying amount is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

1.2.3 Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial asset or financial liability. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss are immediately recognised in the statement of profit and loss account.

Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial instrument and of allocating interest income or expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts future cash receipts or payments through the expected life of the financial instrument, or where appropriate, a shorter period.

(a) Non-derivative financial assets

(i) Financial assets measured at amortized cost

A financial asset shall be measured at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(ii) Financial assets measured at fair value

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if such financial assets are held within a business model whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and to sell such financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(iii) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets not measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income are carried at fair value through profit and loss.

Cash and cash equivalents:

Which includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, cheques on hand and other short-term deposits which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash, are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and have original maturities of less than one year. These balances with banks are unrestricted for withdrawal and usage.

Other bank balances:

Which includes balances and deposits with banks that are restricted for withdrawal and usage.

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, in banks and demand deposits with banks, net of outstanding bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and are considered part of the Company's cash management system.

(b) Non-derivative financial liabilities Financial liabilities and equity instruments Classification as debt or equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments are recorded at the proceeds received.

Financial liabilities

Trade and other payables are initially measured at fair value, net of transaction costs, and are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method where the time value of money is significant.

Interest bearing bank loans, overdrafts and issued debt are initially measured at fair value through profit and loss account. Any transaction costs and the settlement or redemption of borrowings is recognised over the term of the borrowings in the statement of profit and loss.

Compound financial instrument

- The component parts of compound instruments (compulsory convertible debentures) issued by the Company are classified separately as financial liabilities and equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.
- A conversion option that will be settled by the exchange of a fixed number of the Company's own equity instruments is an equity instrument. At the date of issue, the fair value of the liability component is estimated using the prevailing market interest rate for similar non-convertible instruments. This amount is recorded as a liability on an amortised cost basis using the effective interest method until extinguished upon conversion or at the instrument's maturity date. The conversion option classified as equity is determined by deducting the amount of the liability component from the fair value of the compound instrument as a whole. This is recognised and included in equity, and is not subsequently re measured.

- In addition, the conversion option classified as equity will remain in equity until the conversion is exercised, in which case, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to other component of equity. When the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date of the convertible instrument, the balance recognised in equity will be transferred to retained earnings. No gain or loss is recognised in statement of profit and loss upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.

1.2.4 Property, Plant and Equipment:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 16 – Property, Plant and Equipment with effect from the applicable date.

Recognition and measurement: Normally Property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost includes expenditures directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset.

Depreciation on tangible assets is provided on the straight-line method over the useful lives of assets as per the schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. Leasehold improvements are written off over the lower of the remaining primary period of lease or the life of the asset.

The useful life of the assets adopted by the company is as per schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 as follows:

Building	60 years
Factory Buildings	30 years
Plant and Machinery and Others	15 years
Plant and Machinery (Power Generation)	40 years
Plant and Machinery (Rolling Mill)	20 years
Office equipment	05 years
Computer equipment	03 years
Furniture and Fixtures	10 years

Electrical Installations	10 years
Vehicles (Other than two wheelers)	08 years
Vehicles (Two Wheelers)	10 years
Roads (carpeted-other than RCC)	05 years
Roads (non-carpeted)	03 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed periodically at each financial year end.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment outstanding at each Balance Sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets.

Subsequent expenditure relating to Property, Plant and Equipment are capitalized only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

Repairs & maintenance costs are recognized in the statement of Profit & Loss when incurred.

Upon sale or retirement of assets, the Cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements and the resultant gain or losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.2.5 Capital work-in progress:

The items of property, plant and equipment which are not yet ready for use are disclosed as capital work in progress and carried at historical cost.

1.2.6 Leases:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 116 – Leases with effect from the applicable date. In accordance with the standard, the Company recognizes a Right-of-Use (ROU) asset and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements, except for those leases that fall within the scope exemptions provided under Paragraphs 5 and 6 of the standards.

As permitted under Paragraphs 5 and 6 of Ind AS 116, the Company has elected not to apply the recognition requirements of Ind AS 116 to:

Short-term leases, defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less and no purchase option, and

Leases of low-value assets, such as office furniture, small equipment, and similar items, based on the value of the underlying asset when new.

Lease payments associated with these leases are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, or on another systematic basis, if more representative of the pattern of the lessee's benefit. For all other leases, the Company recognizes:

- A lease liability measured at the present value of future lease payments, discounted using the lessee's incremental borrowing rate, and

- A Right-of-Use (ROU) asset measured initially at cost and subsequently depreciated over the lease term or useful life, whichever is shorter.

Lease liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, and the ROU assets are subject to depreciation and impairment reviews as per Ind AS 36.

The Company presents ROU assets separately under Property, Plant and Equipment, and lease liabilities under financial liabilities in the balance sheet, where applicable.

Leases where the lessor effectively retains substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the leased assets are classified as operating leases.

The Company has entered into agreements for taking on lease certain offices/premises. The lease term is for a period ranging from 1 year to 5 years. In all the leases significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor. Hence, the entity has not recognised a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the entity. Lessee (i.e the entity) has opted for exemption under para B3-B8 of IND AS 116 Leases.

1.2.7 Inventory:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 2 – Inventories with effect from the applicable date.

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost of inventories comprises all cost of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined by First in First out (FIFO) method.

1.2.8 Events After the Reporting Period:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 10 – Events after the Reporting Period. Events occurring after the reporting date up to the date when the financial statements are approved for issue are considered for recognition or disclosure, as per the following classification:

Adjusting Events:

These are events that provide additional evidence of conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period. The financial statements are adjusted to reflect such events.

Non-Adjusting Events:

These are events indicative of conditions that arose after the reporting period. The financial statements are not adjusted for such events. However, if such events are material, they are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

The Company evaluates all subsequent events up to the date of approval of the financial statements by the Board of Directors to determine whether any events require recognition or disclosure in accordance with this standard.

1.2.9 Impairment:

(a) Financial Assets

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 109 – Financial Instruments with effect from the applicable date.

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss.

- The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivable. The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognizes impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If in subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECLs are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e. all shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR. When estimating the cash flows, an entity is required to consider:

- (ii) All contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension etc.) over the expected life of the financial instrument. However, in rare cases when the expected life of the financial instrument cannot be estimated reliably, then the entity is required to use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument.
- (iii) Cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognised during the period is recognised as income/ expense in the statement of profit and loss. The balance sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

Financial assets measured at amortised cost, contractual revenue receivable: ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e. as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

(b) Non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that a non-financial asset or a group of non-financial assets is impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the amount of impairment loss.

An impairment loss is calculated as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and recoverable amount. Losses are recognised in profit or loss and reflected in an allowance account. When the Company considers that there are no realistic prospects of recovery of the asset, the relevant amounts are written off. If the amount of impairment loss subsequently decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, then the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit (as defined below) is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets (the "cash-generating unit").

1.2.10 Employee benefits:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 19 – Employee Benefits with effect from the applicable date.

(a) Gratuity & Provident Fund:

- (i) Gratuity payable to eligible employees is administered by a separate Trust. Payments to the trust towards contributions and other demands are made on the basis of actuarial valuation.

The Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan ("the Gratuity Plan") covering eligible employees. The Gratuity Plan provides a lump-sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment with the Company.

Liabilities with regard to the Gratuity Plan are determined by actuarial valuation, performed by an independent actuary, at each Balance Sheet date using the projected unit credit method.

The Company recognizes the net obligation of the defined benefit plan in its Balance Sheet as an asset or liability. Gains and losses through re measurements of the net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognized in other comprehensive income and are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods. The actual return of the portfolio of plan assets, in excess of the yields computed by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation is recognized in other comprehensive income. The effects of any plan amendments are recognized in net profit in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

- (ii) Fixed contributions to Provident Fund are recognized in the accounts at actual cost to the Company.

(b) Other Benefits:

Other employee benefits are estimated and accounted as per the company's policy and the terms of the employment contract.

1.2.11 Provisions:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 37 – Employee Benefits with effect from the applicable date. All the provisions are recognized as per Ind AS 37.

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognized as an asset, if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.

1.2.12 Consolidated Financial Statements:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 110 – Consolidated Financial Statements with effect from the applicable date.

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries over which the Company exercises control. Control exists when the Company is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with an entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.

The results and financial position of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control is obtained until the date such control ceases.

Intra-group balances, transactions, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation. Non-controlling interests represent the portion of profit or loss and net assets of subsidiaries attributable to equity holders other than the Company and are presented separately in the consolidated financial statements.

SEIL Infra Logistics Limited, incorporated on June 29, 2025, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Steel Exchange India Limited. As at March 31, 2026, the subsidiary had not commenced commercial operations and no subscription money towards share capital had been received. Consequently, the subsidiary had no financial or operational activity during the year. Accordingly, non-consolidation of the said subsidiary does not have any impact on the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026.

1.2.13 Revenue recognition:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 115 – Revenue from Contracts with Customers with effect from the applicable date.

The Company derives revenues primarily from business of Iron & Steel and power.

Sale of products

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised goods or services to the customer, recovery of the consideration is probable, the associated costs and possible return of goods can be estimated reliably, there is no continuing management involvement with the goods, and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably. Revenue is measured net of returns, trade discounts and volume rebates. The timing of the transfer of risks and rewards varies depending on the individual terms of the sales agreement.

An Entity's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the entity has transferred to a customer when that right is conditioned on something other than passage of time is treated as contract asset.

An entity's obligation to transfer goods or service to a customer for which the entity has received consideration (or the amount is due) from the customer is treated as contract liability.

The Company accounts for volume discounts and pricing incentives to customers as a reduction of revenue based on performance obligation that corresponds to the progress by the customer towards earning the discount / incentive. If it is probable that the criteria for the discount will not be met, or if the amount thereof cannot be estimated reliably, then the discount is not recognized until the payment is probable and the amount can be estimated reliably. The Company recognizes changes in the estimated number of obligations for discounts in the period in which the change occurs.

Contract modifications are accounted for when additions, deletions or changes are approved either to the contract scope or contract price. The accounting for modifications of contracts involves assessing whether the goods/services added to an existing contract are distinct and whether the pricing is at the standalone selling price.

Goods/ services added that are not distinct are accounted for on a cumulative catch-up basis, while those that are distinct are accounted for prospectively, either as a separate contract, if the additional Goods/ services are priced at the standalone selling price, or as a termination of the existing contract and creation of a new contract if not priced at the standalone selling price.

Sale of power

Revenue from sale of power is recognised when the services are provided to the customer based on approved tariff rates established by the respective regulatory authorities. The Company doesn't recognise revenue and an asset for cost incurred in the past that will be recovered.

Income from Logistic Business:

Revenue from infrastructure and logistics services includes transportation, material handling, warehousing, loading and unloading, railway siding operations and other allied services.

Revenue from such services is recognised over time as and when the related services are rendered to customers in accordance with the terms of the underlying contracts, as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company's performance.

Where services are rendered over a period of time, revenue is recognised based on the stage of completion or as per contractual terms. Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in the contract and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

The Company presents revenues net of indirect taxes in its Statement of Profit and Loss.

Disaggregate revenue information

Revenue from Operations presents disaggregated revenues from contracts with customers for the year ended March 31, 2026 by type of goods or services. Refer table in note no.3.18

The Company believes that this disaggregation best depicts how the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of our revenues and cash flows are affected by industry, market and other economic factors.

Trade receivables and contract balances

The Company classifies the right to consideration in exchange for deliverables as a receivable.

A receivable is a right to consideration that is unconditional upon passage of time. Revenue for time-and-material contracts are recognized as related control in goods is transferred and services are performed. Trade receivable is presented net of impairment in the Balance Sheet.

Performance obligations and remaining performance obligations

The remaining performance obligation disclosure provides the aggregate amount of the transaction price yet to be recognized as at the end of the reporting period and an explanation as to when the Company expects to recognize these amounts in revenue.

Applying the practical expedient as given in Ind AS 115-Revenue from Contracts with Customers, the Company has not disclosed the remaining performance obligation related disclosures for contracts where the revenue recognized corresponds directly with the value to the customer of the entity's performance completed to date, typically those contracts where invoicing is on time-and-material basis.

Remaining performance obligation estimates are subject to change and are affected by several factors, including terminations, changes in the scope of contracts, periodic revaluations, and adjustment for revenue that has not materialized and adjustments for currency.

1.2.14 Finance income and expense

- Finance income consists of interest income on deposits, Lease rental income, gain sale of property, plant and equipment and other miscellaneous income. Interest income is recognized as it accrues in the statement of profit and loss.
- Finance expenses consist of interest expense on loans and borrowings. Borrowing costs are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.
- Foreign currency gains and losses are reported on a net basis.

1.2.15 Income tax:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 12 – Income Taxes with effect from the applicable date.

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax expense is recognized in the statement of profit and loss except to the extent it relates to items directly recognized in equity or in other comprehensive income.

(a) Current income tax

Current income tax for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities based on the taxable income for the period. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the current tax amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date and applicable for the period. The Company offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and liability simultaneously.

Section 115 BAA of the Income Tax Act 1961, introduced by Taxation Laws (Amendment) Ordinance, 2019 gives a one-time irreversible option to Domestic Companies for payment of corporate tax at reduced rates. In view of the unabsorbed depreciation and MAT Credits, the Company has determined that it will continue to recognize tax expense at the existing income tax rate as applicable to the Company.

(b) Deferred income tax

Deferred income tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in financial statements, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profits or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized. Deferred income tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences. The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilized.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

1.2.16 Earnings per share:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 33 – Earnings Per Share with effect from the applicable date.

Basic earnings per share are computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS is computed by dividing the net profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic EPS and also weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the year, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each year presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for bonus shares, as appropriate.

During the year, the Company sold a non-operational asset which was not in use and did not constitute a cash-generating unit or a component of the Company's business as defined under Ind AS 105- Non-Current Assets held for Sale and Discontinued Operations. Accordingly, this transaction does not qualify as a discontinued operation, and earnings per share from discontinued operations under Ind AS 33 have not been presented."

1.2.17 Foreign Currency Transactions:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 21 – The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates with effect from the applicable date.

Foreign currency transactions are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities are reported at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date. Exchange differences relating to long term monetary items, arising during the year, as so far as they relate to the acquisition of the depreciable capital asset is dealt with in the profit and loss statements.

1.2.18 Borrowing costs:

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 23 – Borrowing Costs with effect from the applicable date.

Borrowings costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which it occurs.

Borrowing costs consists of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.
